

Experience the Power of Live Marketing

Keeping your company name in front of manufacturing decision-makers is crucial to building brand awareness and your long-term success. There's no better way to do this than using the power of SME to deliver your message to manufacturing professionals worldwide. Increase your industry exposure by aligning your company with the world's leading professional society for advancing manufacturing knowledge.

Experience the power of live marketing when you use SME Sponsorship Opportunities as an integral component in your marketing mix. Help your company deliver a strong ROI, position yourself as a thought leader in your respective industry, share your content to a targeted audience and deliver hard qualified leads to your sales team. SME provides a number of ways to get your company, your message, and your brand in front of manufacturing professionals.

GET STARTED!

SME events draw out the biggest thinkers and doers in the industry – from innovators to key decision-makers. For more information on sponsorship programs email: sponsorships@sme.org